PARKING METER MERITS HEARD BY COUNCILMEN

Business Bureau Officials Sit In As Firm Representatives Talk

City council, the board of control, members of the Business Bureau parking meter committee and Acting Police Chief Nerr Gaunt last night heard representatives of six parking meter firms explain and demonstrate their products in preparation to final choice of meters for installation in Salem.

The meeting, divided into six demonstration periods for the six salesmen, was strictly an "educational" affair for the persons involved, giving all an opportunity to view and deliberate on the type and make of meter to be finally installed here.

9-Month Trial Period
All meters are sold on a nine-month trial basis at a stipulated monthly rental basis, ranging from $2 to $3.75 per meter. The rental fee is applied to the costs of the meters, if at the end of the trial period the city decides to keep the installed devices.

Meters displayed last night ranged in price from $49.50 to $68.77 each and salesmen all promised installation in Salem within 60 days after the contract is let.

Two distinct types were displayed, the manually operated meters and the automatic type.

The automatic are the type which requires nothing on the part of the customer other than insertion of the coin in the slot.

On the manual type the customer must turn a handle or crank after inserting each coin. Costs in the two classes varied very little.

Firms Represented
Firms represented at the meeting included: The Karpark Meter Co., Cincinnati; the Magee-Hale Co., Oklahoma City, Okla.; the Miller Pioneer Meter Co., Chicago, Ill.; the M. H. Rhodes Co., Hartford, Conn.; the M. Co. Meter Co., Covington, Ky.; and the Dual Parking Meter Co. of Canton.

Besides the councilmen and Chief Gaunt, Charles Haldi and Harold D. Smith, members of Business Bureau meter committee, Acting Service Director Oscar McComman, Safety Director C. E. Phillips and Mayor R. R. Johnson attended.

K. OF C. COUNCIL RE-ELECTS PROBERT

Edwin Probert has been re-elected grand knight of Salem council, Knights of Columbus, for his second term.

Other officers are: Deputy grand knight, William Lippert; chancellor, J. C. Stull; recorder, James Fetter; financial secretary, Earl Diville; treasurer, James Steffel; advocate, John Vella; warden, Frank Dutko; inside guard, John Girard; outside guard, Terrence Steffel; trustee for three years, Robert Tubbs; trustee for one year, Urban Lepping.

The chaplain and lecturer are appointive officers and the appointments will be made before July 1, when the officers are inducted.

Lunch was served by Lecturer Julius Julian and his committee.

Bevin Threatens To Sign Separate European Treaties

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., June 12—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared in an address today that he would reject the immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews to Palestine, and would sign separate peace treaties with defeated European nations if pending peace negotiations continued bogged down among the four principal powers.

He declared he would refuse to apply economic sanctions to Spain.

Bevin's stand was taken in an appearance before the dominant labor party's annual conference. He won an overwhelming endorsement of his policies.

Cites World Split
In a fighting mood and speaking extemporaneously, the retired foreign secretary won adoption of a party conference resolution endorsing his administration of foreign affairs. Five other resolutions, all critical, were withdrawn or defeated.

The issue of the council of foreign ministers in Paris next week, he said, will be whether Europe is to be split into eastern and western blocs.

"Next week that is the issue which is to be settled, if it ever is," Bevin said.

"I am not going to be a party to any design in strategy against Russia," Bevin went on.

"Neither will we give one moment's consideration to expansion. But this division of Europe, this awful business of drawing a line from Stettin (Germany) to Albania and behind that this solidified position—if that happens, which God forbid, you will have two camps in Europe and that will be the road to another struggle."

He called for conclusion of a peace treaty with Austria and urged the clearance of occupation troops from the Danube basin.

Hold Leetonia Motorist After Route 62 Crash
Bovd Wilson of Leetonia is in city jail today on a charge of driving while intoxicated, filed by state highway patrolmen following a minor accident on Route 62, a mile west of Damascus, at 11:45 p. m. yesterday.

Wilson, the patrolmen said, was parked on the highway without lights when another car, driven by Paul Brooks, 22, of Salem, crashed into the rear of Wilson's car.

Brooks told patrolmen a third car was travelling towards him and because of the lights he did not see Wilson's blacked-out vehicle on the highway.

Badertscher New Head Of Schools In Sebring
SEBRING, June 12—J. M. Badertscher, former principal of Sebring McKinley High school, today received a two-year contract, beginning Aug. 1, as superintendent to succeed S. H. Pollock, resigned.

Badertscher resigned two years ago to enter business. He is a former member of the Sebring village council.

Pollock resigned after 20 years as superintendent.

His resignation followed a strike staged by high school pupils protesting failure of the school board to retain John Fife as football coach, with the return of Clinton Heacock, former coach, from the coast guard. Heacock has submitted his resignation, but the board has not accepted it.

INDICTED FOR BRUTAL DEATH OF WOMAN, 57

Charge of First Degree Murder Returned Against Newell Man

LISBON, June 12—Lawrence A. "Abe" Wheatley, of Newell, W. Va., was indicted for murder in the first degree for the sadistic slaying of Mrs. Letha Barrett, 57, of East Liverpool, by the grand jury which concluded a special session Tuesday afternoon.

The jurors, in session two days, returned six indictments, ignored four cases, and continued two others after examining 43 witnesses, Prosecutor Frank W. Springer, said.

The jury was excused for the remainder of the term after submitting the report to Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Lured To Spot
Wheatley is alleged to have lured Mrs. Barrett to a spot along the Ohio river road between East Liverpool and Wellsville on the afternoon of May 23, and there assaulted her and brutally beat her about the head and face.

He was returned to this county from the Hancock county (W. Va.) jail where he was held on a charge of malicious assault with intent to kill as the result of "shooting up" his home town while in a drunken and crazed condition the same evening and after allegedly confessing to a service station attendant that he had killed a woman.

He is now held in the Mahoning county jail without bond pending arraignment in common pleas court.

An indictment charging manslaughter in the second degree was returned against Daniel Marchbanks, Lisbon, R. D. 4, in connection with the death of Samuel Belich of Dunganon, a passenger in the Marchbanks' car which went over an embankment and overturned on the old Y. & O. road near Rock Camp.

Others Indicted
Other indictments returned include: Lawrence Speece, charged with the theft of an automobile in East Liverpool, and who is now serving a similar sentence in Pennsylvania; Thomas Jackson of Salem, charged with selling mortgaged property; Allan Pinkerton, Homeworth, charged with abandoning a pregnant woman, and Janet Frye of Columbiana, charged with auto theft.

Cases continued to the September term grand jury include: George Gavin, Youngstown, in connection with the robbery of McDonald's Curb Service at East Liverpool and the Gaughn Service station at the intersection of Routes No. 7 and 14, and the case of Mary E. Pollock of East Liverpool, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

Freight Derailed; Probe Is Underway
The moving of two rails on the east-bound track of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad early this morning near the McDonald road crossing, "just ahead" of a fast freight and a Chicago to New York passenger train, was branded as a clear-cut case of sabotage by Chester Williams, superintendent of the Akron division of the B. & O.

A serious accident was narrowly averted, probably because the derailment was near a curve and the fast freight had slowed down.

There was little damage as only front wheels of the locomotive left the tracks. A wreck crew repaired the tracks in less than an hour and traffic was routed over another track, resulting in no tieup of passenger trains.

"It was a slick job, a plain case of tampering," Williams said. "It was the work of someone who knew railroading. We don't know the motive but it was a thorough investigation is underway."

The rails were moved just enough to cause derailment but not enough to break the signal wires.

The train was running ahead of No. 8, Chicago to New York, due in Youngstown at 8:10 this morning.

ARMY CREW KILLED IN PLANE MISHAP
GATLINBURG, Tenn., June 12—All passengers, believed to be army personnel, were reported killed today in the crash of a C-47 transport on Clingman's dome, 21 miles from here and second highest peak east of the Mississippi river.

The Knoxville News-Sentinel correspondent said bodies were scattered about the mountainside and that the engine of the plane was lying in a road.

ST. CLAIR TOWNSHIP ASKS SCHOOL DISTRICT TRANSFER
EAST LIVERPOOL, June 12—Patrons of nearby St. Clair township school's today called upon Dr. Clyde Hissong of Columbus, state superintendent of public instruction, to provide the area with adequate education facilities.

They urged him to make a personal investigation, then order a hearing on a request for permission to withdraw from the Beaver school district and organize an independent district.

The township acted after Beaver district rejected, for the fifth time, at the May 7 primary election, a $305,000 bond issue to erect new school buildings.

PLAN DRAFT COMPROMISE

Teen-Agers' Induction Would Be Made Only As Last Resort

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 12—Draft of teen-agers only as a last resort was proposed today in a compromise move to break the senate-house deadlock over extending selective service beyond July 1.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), one of the senate conferees working for agreement on the conscription legislation, told a reporter such a "compromise offers a fair basis of settlement for both the senate and house."

The actual work of hammering out a compromise on conflicting house and senate versions of a draft extender was scheduled to start today at the first formal meeting of the joint conference committee.

Of the "last resort" compromise, Bridges told newsmen he thought "everybody could agree that men 20 years old and above should be drafted first if inductees are required to meet manpower demands. If they do not fill requirements, then 19 years old could be taken. If shortages still exist then 18 years old could be called."

Rep. Brooks (D-La.) who is credited with holding the deciding vote among the seven house conferees, indicated approval of the compromise.

The senate bill calls for extension of wartime conscription until next May 15 along with a pay boost for all enlisted grades in the armed forces.

HOLD SUSPECT IN TAVERN ROBBERY
LISBON, June 12—Joseph Glynn, who lives near the Yellow Creek township Presbyterian church, was arrested last night on a charge of breaking and entering a Toronto tavern early Tuesday morning.

Glynn, who allegedly had stolen liquor and money from the tavern in his house, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Drevold, Wellsville Police Chief H. R. Dushman and two patrolmen from Toronto after a search of his home revealed the stolen goods.

He was traced through a taxi driver from Toronto who told police Glynn rode home from that community early Tuesday and paid him in nickels. A quantity of nickels had been taken from a vending machine.

Umberto's Refusal To Quit Leaves Cabinet In Quandary

By GEORGE E. BRIA
ROME, June 12—The weary Italian cabinet, unable to persuade King Umberto II to leave his throne and alarmed by bloody monarchist demonstrations in Naples which left seven dead last night, pondered today a proposal to convene the newly elected constituent assembly immediately.

The assembly—which is empowered to draft a new constitution for Italy—is not scheduled to meet until June 24, but the cabinet, unable to agree after five meetings in 30 hours whether the country is a republic or a monarchy, considered convening at once to work on the problem.

Seven persons were slain and more than 50 wounded in yesterday's violent bomb and gun fighting in Naples and cabinet members regarded as very serious in their implications reports that police had begun to take sides, with the royalist carabinieri clashing with other police favoring the republic.

May Force Exile
A new worry also confronted Naples municipal officials—a pro-republic demonstration scheduled for 3 p. m. to demand cabinet action to force Umberto into exile as a result of the recent plebiscite which favored the republic by a margin of nearly 2,000,000 votes. Umberto claims the result "indefinite."

A similar Republican demonstration in Rome ended peacefully yesterday as 100,000 pro-Republicans dispersed without violence after marching on Viminale palace to voice their demands that the cabinet end Umberto's reign and proclaim the republic.

In Naples a pitched battle raged for hours, with a crowd of 10,000 to 20,000 monarchists besieging the six-story Communist headquarters and bombarding it with Molotov cocktails—bottles of gasoline with flaming wicks—in a determined effort to destroy it.

Both police and monarchist forces used automatic weapons in the fighting and Communists barricaded in their headquarters returned the fire, an Associated Press photographer said he saw many persons hit by gunfire.

Dispatches from other large cities of Italy said pro-republic demonstrations went off without incident during the day—which had been proclaimed a holiday to celebrate the republic—including one in Catania in monarchist Sicily.

BIDS ARE OPENED ON HIGHWAY JOBS
The Tri-State Asphalt Corp., Martins Ferry, and the Portage Bitumens Co. Akron, were apparent low bidders today on state highway department projects which includes work in Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

The Columbiana county work involves asphalt concrete resurfacing of 1,537 miles of Route 7 in Wellsville in Saline township of Jefferson county. The bid, which also included additional work in Jefferson county, was $22,116 and the state's estimate $22,190.

In Mahoning county the project includes bituminous treatment of 2.51 miles of the Salem-Warren road in Ellsworth township and 2.5 miles of Route 534 in Berlin township.

The lowest bid, filed by the Akron firm, was for $31,822 and the state's estimate $35,878.

NAVY VETERAN GOES BERSERK, IS ALSO SHOT

Demented Man Kills Station Officer After Posing As FBI Agent

MASSILLON, June 12—A city patrolman was killed and his civilian assailant wounded seriously in a shooting which Police Chief Stanley W. Switzer said followed the wounded man's statement he had been ordered by the FBI to "take over" the station.

Killed Instantly
The patrolman, Myron Henderson, 42, who was in charge of the station at the time, died instantly after being shot three times, once through the heart.

Chief Switzer identified the other man as Lester Martin, 26, of neighboring Navarre.

He said the man entered the station early today, told Henderson he had been instructed by the FBI to "take over" the headquarters and then pulled out a pistol and shot the officer.

Henderson first ordered the man to drop the pistol and reached for his own gun in a drawer. Switzer said Martin then shot the patrolman in the arm and then fired two more shots that entered his body, one in the heart.

Although wounded in the arm, Henderson was able to fire several times before receiving the fatal wound, but the shots went wild, the police chief continued.

Martin, after threatening two civilians in the station, was shot shortly afterward by Patrolman Joseph Slinger, who was on duty nearby and was summoned by a man who heard the shooting, Chief Switzer said.

Shoots Through Window
Slinger ran to the station, peered through a window and opened fire on Martin. The other two men in the station with the fatally wounded patrolman, Lyle Burdette, city treasurer, and Eugene Blankenbaker, escaped injury.

Martin was taken to a hospital. Chief Switzer said the man apparently was demented.

The police chief said immediately prior to Martin's appearance at the station, Henderson had received a phone call from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. exchange saying "a crazy man just tried to place long distance call here and is on his way over here."

Faces Murder Charge
Chief Switzer said he would file a first degree murder charge against Martin later today.

Switzer said he had learned that for several weeks Martin had been telling people he was an FBI agent.

In Cleveland, the FBI said it had "never heard of Martin."

Martin, a navy veteran, was head of the federal labor union (AFL) at the Tyson Bearing Corp.

Security Tax of 1.5 Percent Seen
WASHINGTON, June 12—The house ways and means committee voted to increase the social security tax against employees' pay and employers' payrolls from 1 percent to 1.5 percent, effective Jan. 1.

If the house and senate follow the committee's recommendation the annual collection for social security insurance will be increased from the present $1,300,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

The committee stipulated that the tax shall be 1.5 against employees' pay and employers' payroll for a five-year period beginning next January.

Under the original Social Security act, the tax will advance to 2.5 against employee pay and employer payrolls next January, unless congress takes some action before that time.

Apples Will Cost This Season Pound More Than Last
WASHINGTON, June 12—Apples will cost housewives an average of a cent more a pound this year than during the early 1945 season.

Announcing this today, OPA said the increase is being granted to compensate for higher production and packing costs.

An indictment charging manslaughter in the second degree was returned against Daniel Marchbanks, Lisbon, R. D. 4, in connection with the death of Samuel Bellich of Duncannon, a passenger in the Marchbanks' car which went over an embankment and overturned along the old Y. & O. road near Rock Camp.

Others Indicted

Other indictments returned include: Lawrence Speece, charged with the theft of an automobile in East Liverpool, and who is now serving a similar sentence in Pennsylvania; Thomas Jackson of Salem, charged with selling mortgaged property; Allan Pinkerton, Homeworth, charged with abandoning a pregnant woman, and Janet Frye of Columbiana, charged with auto theft.

Cases continued to the September term grand jury include, George Gavin, Youngstown, in connection with the robbery of McDonald's Curb Service at East Liverpool and the Gaughn Service station at the intersection of Routes No. 7 and 14, and the case of Mary E. Pollock of East Liverpool, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

Hold Leetonia Motorist After Route 62 Crash

BOYD Wilson of Leetonia is in city jail today on a charge of driving while intoxicated, filed by state highway patrolmen following a minor accident on Route 62, a mile west of Damascus, at 11:45 p. m. yesterday.

Wilson, the patrolmen said, was parked on the highway without lights when another car, driven by Paul Brooks, 22, of Salem, crashed into the rear of Wilson's car.

Brooks told patrolmen a third car was travelling towards him and because of the lights he did not see Wilson's blacked-out vehicle on the highway.

There was little damage as only front wheels of the locomotive left the tracks. A wreck crew repaired the tracks in less than an hour and traffic was routed over another track, resulting in no tieup of passenger trains.

"It was a slick job, a plain case of tampering," Williams said. "It was the work of someone who knew railroading. We don't know the motive but a thorough investigation is underway."

The rails were moved just enough to break the signal wires. The train was running ahead of No. 8, Chicago to New York, due in Youngstown at 8:10 this morning.

Pollock resigned after 20 years as superintendent.

His resignation followed a strike staged by high school pupils protesting failure of the school board to retain John Pife as football coach, with the return of Clinton Heacock, former coach, from the coast guard. Heacock has submitted his resignation, but the board has not accepted it.

PLAN DRAFT COMPROMISE

Teen-Agers' Induction Would Be Made Only As Last Resort

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12—Draft of teen-agers only as a last resort was proposed today in a compromise move to break the senate-house deadlock over extending selective service beyond July 1.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), one of the senate conferees working for agreement on the conscription legislation, told a reporter such a "compromise offers a fair basis of settlement for both the senate and house."

The actual work of hammering out a compromise on conflicting house and senate versions of a draft extension was scheduled to start today at the first formal meeting of the joint conference committee.

Of the "last resort" compromise, Bridges told newsmen he thought "everybody could agree that men 20 years old and above should be drafted first if inductees are required to meet manpower demands. If they do not fill requirements then 19 years old could be taken. If shortages still exist then 18 years old could be called."

Rep. Brooks (D-La.) who is credited with holding the deciding vote among the seven house conferees indicated approval of the compromise.

The senate bill calls for extension of wartime conscription until next May 15 along with a pay boost for all enlisted grades in the armed forces.

HOLD SUSPECT IN TAVERN ROBBERY

LISBON, June 12—Joseph Glynn, who lives near the Yellow Creek township Presbyterian church, was arrested last night on a charge of breaking and entering a Toronto tavern early Tuesday morning.

Glynn, who allegedly had stolen liquor and money from the tavern in his house, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Drovic, Wellsburg Police Chief H. R. Duestman and two patrolmen from Toronto after a search of his home revealed the stolen goods.

He was traced through a taxi driver from Toronto who told police Glynn rode home from that community early Tuesday and paid him in nickels. A quantity of nickels had been taken from a vending machine.

St. Clair Township Asks School District Transfer

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 12.—Patrons of nearby St. Clair township school's today called upon Dr. Clyde Hissong of Columbus, state superintendent of public instruction, to provide the area with adequate education facilities.

They urged him to make a personal investigation, then order a hearing on a request for permission to withdraw from the Beaver school district and organize an independent district.

The township acted after Beaver district rejected, for the fifth time, at the May 7 primary election, a $305,000 bond issue to erect new school buildings.

Umberto's Refusal To Quit Leaves Cabinet In Quandary

By GEORGE F. BRILL

ROME, June 12—The weary Italian cabinet, unable to persuade King Umberto II to leave his throne and alarmed by bloody monarchist demonstrations in Naples which left seven dead last night, pondered today a proposal to convoke the newly elected constituent assembly immediately.

The assembly—which is empowered to draft a new constitution for

Italy—is not scheduled to meet until June 24, but the cabinet, unable to agree after five meetings in 30 hours whether the country is a republic or a monarchy, considered convening at once to work on the problem.

Seven persons were slain and more than 50 wounded in yesterday's violent bomb and gun fighting in Naples and cabinet members regarded as very serious in their implications reports that police had begun to take sides, with the royal carabinieri clashing with other police favoring the republic.

May Force Exile

A new worry also confronted Naples municipal officials—a pro-republic demonstration scheduled for 3 p. m. to demand cabinet action to force Umberto into exile as a result of the recent plebiscite which favored the republic by a margin of nearly 2,000,000 votes. Umberto claims the result "indefinite."

A similar Republican demonstration in Rome ended peacefully yesterday as 100,000 pro-Republicans dispersed without violence after marching on the Viminale palace to voice their demands that the cabinet end Umberto's reign and proclaim the republic.

In Naples a pitched battle raged for hours, with a crowd of 10,000 to 20,000 monarchists besieging the six-story Communist headquarters and bombarding it with Molotov cocktails — bottles of gasoline with flaming wicks—in a determined effort to destroy it.

Both police and monarchist forces used automatic weapons in the fighting and Communists barricaded in their headquarters returned the fire of the besiegers. Walter Green, an Associated Press photographer, said he saw many persons hit by gunfire.

Dispatches from other large cities of Italy said pro-republic demonstrations went off without incident during the day which had been proclaimed a holiday to celebrate the republic—including one in Catania in monarchist Sicily.

BIDS ARE OPENED ON HIGHWAY JOBS

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp., Martins Ferry, and the Portage Bituminous Co. Akron, were apparent low bidders today on state highway department projects which include work in Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

The Columbiana county work involves asphaltic concrete resurfacing of 1,537 miles of Route 7 in Wellsville in Saline township of Jefferson county. The bid, which also included additional work in Jefferson county, was $22,116 and the state's estimate $22,190.

In Mahoning county the project includes bituminous treatment of 2.51 miles of the Salem-Warren road in Ellsworth township and 2.5 miles of Route 534 in Berlin township.

The lowest bid, filed by the Akron firm, was for $31,822 and the state's estimate $35,878.

Demented Man Kills Station Officer After Posting As FBI Agent

MASSILLON, June 12—A city patrolman was killed and his civilian assailant wounded seriously in police headquarters today in a shooting which Police Chief Stanley W. Switzer said followed the wounded man's statement he had been ordered by the FBI to "take over" the station.

Killed Instantly

The patrolman, Myron Henderson, 42, who was in charge of the station at the time, died instantly after being shot three times, once through the heart.

Chief Switzer identified the other man as Lester Martin, 26, of neighboring Navarre.

He said the man entered the station early today, told Henderson he had been instructed by the FBI to "take over" the headquarters and then pulled out a pistol and shot the officer.

Henderson first ordered the man to drop the pistol and reached for his own gun in a drawer. Switzer said Martin then shot the patrolman in the arm and then fired two more shots that entered his body, one in the heart.

Although wounded in the arm, Henderson was able to fire several times before receiving the fatal wound, but the shots went wild, the police chief continued.

Martin, after threatening two civilians in the station, was shot shortly afterward by Patrolman Joseph Slinger, who was on duty nearby and was summoned by a man who heard the shooting, Chief Switzer said.

Shoots Through Window

Slinger ran to the station, peered through a window and opened fire on Martin. The other two men in the station with the fatally wounded patrolman, Lyle Burdette, city treasurer, and Eugene Blankenbicker, escaped injury.

Martin was taken to a hospital. Chief Switzer said the man apparently was demented.

The police chief said immediately prior to Martin's appearance at the station, Henderson had received a phone call from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. exchange saying "a crazy man just tried to place long distance call here and is on his way over here."

Faces Murder Charge

Chief Switzer said he would file a first degree murder charge against Martin later today.

Switzer said he had learned that for several weeks Martin had been telling people he was an FBI agent.

In Cleveland, the FBI said it had "never heard of Martin."

Martin, a navy veteran, was head of the federal labor union (AFL) at the Tyson Bearing Corp.

Security Tax of 1.5 Percent Seen

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12—The house ways and means committee voted today to increase the social security tax against employees' pay and employers' payrolls from 1 percent to 1.5 percent, effective Jan. 1.

If the house and senate follow the committee's recommendation the annual collection for social security insurance will be increased from the present $1,300,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

The committee stipulated that the tax shall be 1.5 against employees' pay and employers' payroll for a five-year period beginning next January.

Under the original Social Security act, the tax will advance to 2.5 against employee pay and employer payrolls next January, unless congress takes some action before that time.

Apples Will Cost Cent Pound More This Season

WASHINGTON, June 12—Apples will cost housewives an average of one cent more this year than during the early 1945 season.

An Apology Demanded

Two of the strangest bedfellows politics ever made are the Communist politicians of the Soviet Union and the fire-eating politicians of our Great Plains—both roaring against Wall Street, "enemy of the people."

Unfortunately, they don't mean the same people. The Communists mean the proletariat of Russia, now in process of being goaded into a fury about capitalistic plots cooked up in New York's financial district. There should be an international copyright law against filching the stock-in-trade of American welkin-ringers. Wall Street has served them well and still is going strong in some of the backward sections.

Better yet, there should be a United Nations regulation against selling dead horses to suckers. As every graduate New Dealer knows and will boast about at the drop of a billion, Wall Street ceased to be the financial capital of the United States when the New Dispensation moved all power to Washington, early in the 1930's. It's sad, as well as grisly, to think of a lot of Russians being pepped up to fight Americans over an American menace that was officially liquidated long before they saw their first piece of lend-lease.

Alternatives In China

Once more reported armistice in China is something to be taken seriously when it materializes. It now is as plain as anything can be in the midst of postwar floundering that it is going to take more than a promise to cease firing to bring security to the Chinese.

The United States and Russia each has made a significant military commitment in Chinese territory—the United States openly, in a promise to support the Nationalist government, Russia secretly, in its connection with the Communists. Each, furthermore, has bitten off more than can be conveniently chewed, as is usually the case when foreign powers get involved in Chinese affairs.

In fact, it is beginning to be surmised by those who have looked over the scene first-hand that the alternatives in China for the United States are to go whole hog or none. They mean that this government either must do vastly more than it has been doing, which would be the only way to rescue the Nationalist regime, or leave the field to the Chinese, which probably would mean the Chinese Communists.

China is not an isolated postwar problem, in other words, but a major element in the main problem that preoccupies the thoughts of every government—the expansion of Russian influence.

Who Gets The Blame?

The question of government price control which has come to a head in debate on OPA legislation has been taken out of the field of economics and transferred to the field of politics.

The obvious strategy now is to pin the blame for inflation on those trying to untangle the muddle of federal price control. The truth is, inflation became inevitable when it was determined by a group of politicians and labor leaders to blackmail postwar reconversion with an epidemic of strikes, on the bogus claim that wage rates could be raised 30 percent without increasing the price of products.

The master-minds who thought up that one now are shifting the blame from themselves to the persons who hope to stimulate production of scarce articles by letting them find their natural price level—the point at which the public can afford to buy and the manufacturer can afford to produce. Having made rising prices inevitable by increasing costs, the Henry Wallaces want to put the blame on those struggling to make the adjustment to the changing circumstances of production.

As far as price inflation is concerned, it doesn't matter a whoop what happens to OPA. Most of it already has happened. Prices are going up with and without OPA's consent. The only ceiling prices that really matter any more are the ceiling prices in the black market. But the political shyster that calls for someone else to take the rap for inflation is still going full blast. The smear artists who pinned the depression on Herbert Hoover still have work to do. They must find someone to blame for inflation.

World's Greatest Nation

Day after day we are made conscious of the selfishness, bitterness and bad temper which sometimes seem to be the pervading emotions of national and world leaders.

The name-calling and accusations by American, British and Russian top office-holders are unabating. Here at home, class warfare continues. Thus far it is bloodless, but it is class warfare nevertheless.

A prominent labor leader calls a congressman who opposes him a "bum," and announces that "the more labor laws they pass, the more labor trouble they're going to have."

Another prominent labor leader, after negotiating one wage raise with the auto industry and serving notice that he will seek a second one, calls OPA's allowance of a corresponding rise in the price of cars "the biggest scandal in America."

An industrialist, threatened with government action for refusing to bargain in good faith with a union, asserts that if the government can seize property under such conditions it ought to seize unions, too.

A southern governor, in the face of a supreme court ruling against Jim Crow seating on interstate buses, promises his state legislature that "segregation will continue down here."

Those are just samples from one day's news. But they are typical. And they re-emphasize the dangerous national and international implications in our lack of unity.

We Americans are accustomed to think of ourselves as citizens of the world's greatest nation. And we are. But greatness, like liberty, is purchased by eternal vigilance. It took conscious, concerted effort to achieve that greatness, and it will take the same effort to preserve it.

If we continue to drift on our present course of group selfishness and class bitterness, we might wake up one morning to find that our world pre-eminence had passed elsewhere. It is shameful to think that we can live together in peace and helpful cooperation only under threat of military defeat. It is frightening to reflect that the erosion of internal dissension can divide and weaken us almost as effectively as enemy conquest.

Russia and Britain, which felt the enemy's blows, today present a united front in the most important matters as they work toward a resumption of normal life. Their goals and the reasons for their unity differ, but the purpose is there.

Meanwhile, we are failing ourselves and the cause of world peace. And we shall continue to fail until all of us enlist in an active campaign against selfishness and disunity in our government, in our economy, in our community, and, most of all, within ourselves.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, June 13

A DAY of doubts, perplexities, confusion and indecision may be at the root of unusual experiences and adventures at hand. It seems there are so many forms of subtlety and behind-the-scenes complications, that the approach may prove difficult and unprofitable unless extraordinary care, prudence and precaution be exercised every step of the alluring way. Lures and intrigues abound, pitfalls and false leads. However, the intuitions, spiritual or emotional undercurrents, are reliable.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of complexities and strange problems to be discreetly, sagaciously and profoundly analysed before safe and sound decisions be arrived at. Subtlety, duplicity, craft and intrigue may be imbued with bewilderment and glamor, with the mind slanting in that weird direction.

However, there is a deep spiritual refuge, with intuitions, peculiar emotional promptings, even inspiration and hunches stimulated finally to the wise and safe way to security and ease. But reflect before taking vital steps.

A child born on this day although having a deep inspirational nature, lured by high ideals, beauty, charm, moved by intuitions, may be subject to grave duplicity, unless duly warned.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Symptoms of Lead Poisoning

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

LEAD is a common and useful metal, so common and so useful that we sometimes forget that it is also a deadly poison.

Accidental poisoning with lead may occur in many ways. Lead salts are contained in insecticides used for spraying fruits and vegetables; drinking water which has passed through lead pipes may be another source of danger; discarded storage batteries which contain lead plates are sometimes used for fuel in the home, a highly dangerous practice.

Protective Regulations

Fortunately, there are public health regulations designed to protect against these things, so that today, most cases of lead poisoning are confined to those who are exposed to lead in the course of their work. Even here proper protective measures will minimize the danger.

One difficulty lies in the fact that there is a great difference in susceptibility to lead. That is some persons may absorb a great deal into the body before any symptoms develop, while in others, even a little may produce signs of poisoning within a short period of time. It makes a difference, too, whether the lead enters the body through the skin, the mouth or the lungs. It acts most rapidly when inhaled; most slowly when absorbed through the skin.

Early Signs

The early signs of lead poisoning are not distinct. They consist of such things as disturbed sleep, distaste for food at breakfast, constipation, and certain changes in the red blood cells. In some cases a paralysis of certain muscles occurs so that the wrist drops.

Later on there may be sleeplessness, cramping pains in the abdomen, headache, dizziness, nervousness, pain in the joints, pain over the heart, backache, fatigue and anemia or lessening of the coloring in the blood and convulsions. A blue line along the gums known as a lead line develops in some instances.

Sometimes the symptoms of lead poisoning do not occur until the patient develops a cold, or influenza, or some similar infection. After the lead is ingested, a varying period may pass before symptoms occur. About two weeks is the minimum time.

Gasoline Workers

Workers with gasoline containing lead sometimes develop lead poisoning because the lead is absorbed through the skin. In one case, the symptoms developed within two months after a man started working with this type of gasoline.

On the other hand, in certain workers engaged in the cutting of materials containing lead (by means of a flame or torch), symptoms may develop after three or four hours, and severe poisoning may develop after a half-day's exposure.

Regular Check-Up

People who work with lead should be examined at regular intervals to make sure that poisoning is not occurring. One of the best tests is to examine the red blood cells to see if abnormal changes, such as lessening of the coloring matter in them, have occurred.

Many cases of lead poisoning in children have occurred as the result of using discarded automobile storage batteries for fuel in the home.

Springfield City Manager Orders Clamp on Gambling

SPRINGFIELD, June 12.—City Manager Harold M. Floss said today he had instructed Police Chief Walter L. Sweet to "clamp down" on gambling in Springfield.

"I told the chief that unless gambling was stopped, I would take other steps," Floss said after a 90-minute conference with Chief Sweet. The chief declined to comment.

Springfield newspapers last week emphasized the number of horse race betting places said to be operating in Springfield.

An Apology Demanded

Two of the strangest bedfellows politics ever made are the Communist politicians of the Soviet Union and the fire-eating politicians of our Great Plains—both roaring against Wall Street, "enemy of the people."

Unfortunately, they don't mean the same people. The Communists mean the proletariat of Russia, now in process of being goaded into a fury about capitalistic plots cooked up in New York's financial district. There should be an international copyright law against filching the stock-in-trade of American welkin-ringers. Wall Street has served them well and still is going strong in some of the backward sections.

Better yet, there should be a United Nations regulation against selling dead horses to suckers. Asevery graduate New Dealer knows and will boast about at the drop of a billion, Wall Street ceased to be the financial capital of the United States when the New Dispensation moved all power to Washington, early in the 1930's. It's sad, as well as grisly, to think of a lot of Russians being pepped up to fight Americans over an American menace that was officially liquidated long before they saw their first piece of lend-lease.

Alternatives In China

Once more reported armistice in China is something to be taken seriously when it materializes. It now is as plain as anything can be in the midst of postwar floundering that it is going to take more than a promise to cease firing to bring security to the Chinese.

The United States and Russia each has made a significant military commitment in Chinese territory—the United States openly, in a promise to support the Nationalist government, Russia secretly, in its connection with the Communists. Each, furthermore, has bitten off more than can be conveniently chewed, as is usually the case when foreign powers get involved in Chinese affairs.

In fact, it is beginning to be surmised by those who have looked over the scene first-hand that the alternatives in China for the United States are to go whole hog or none. They mean that this government either must do vastly more than it has been doing, which would be the only way to rescue the Nationalist regime, or leave the field to the Chinese, which probably would mean the Chinese Communists.

China is not an isolated postwar problem, in other words, but a major element in the main problem that preoccupies the thoughts of every government—the expansion of Russian influence.

Who Gets The Blame?

The question of government price control which has come to a head in debate on OPA legislation has been taken out of the field of economics and transferred to the field of politics.

The obvious strategy now is to pin the blame for inflation on those trying to untangle the muddle of federal price control. The truth is, inflation became inevitable when it was determined by a group of politicians and labor leaders to blackmail postwar reconversion with an epidemic of strikes, on the bogus claim that wage rates could be raised 30 percent without increasing the price of products.

The master-minds who thought up that one now are shifting the blame from themselves to the persons who hope to stimulate production of scarce articles by letting them find their natural price level—the point at which the public can afford to buy and the manufacturer can afford to produce. Having made rising prices inevitable by increasing costs, the Henry Wallaces want to put the blame on those struggling to make the adjustment to the changing circumstances of production.

As far as price inflation is concerned, it doesn't matter a whoop what happens to OPA. Most of it already has happened. Prices are going up with and without OPA's consent. The only ceiling prices that really matter any more are the ceiling prices in the black market. But the political shysterism that calls for someone else to take the rap for inflation is still going full blast. The smear artists who pinned the depression on Herbert Hoover still have work to do. They must find someone to blame for inflation.

World's Greatest Nation

Day after day we are made conscious of the selfishness, bitterness and bad temper which sometimes seem to be the pervading emotions of national and world leaders.

The name-calling and accusations by American, British and Russian top office-holders are unabating. Here at home, class warfare continues. Thus far it is bloodless, but it is class warfare nevertheless.

A prominent labor leader calls a congressman who opposes him a "bum," and announces that "the more labor laws they pass, the more labor trouble there's going to have."

Another prominent labor leader, after negotiating one wage raise with the auto industry and serving notice that he will seek a second one, calls OPA's allowance of a corresponding rise in the price of cars "the biggest scandal in America."

An industrialist, threatened with government action for refusing to bargain in good faith with a union, asserts that if the government can seize property under such conditions it ought to seize unions, too.

A southern governor, in the face of a supreme court ruling against Jim Crow seating on interstate buses, promises his state legislature that "segregation will continue down here."

Those are just samples from one day's news. But they are typical. And they re-emphasize the dangerous national and international implications in our lack of unity.

We Americans are accustomed to think of ourselves as citizens of the world's greatest nation. And we are. But greatness, like liberty, is purchased by eternal vigilance. It took conscious, concerted effort to achieve that greatness, and it will take the same effort to preserve it.

If we continue to drift on our present course of group selfishness and class bitterness, we might wake up one morning to find that our world pre-eminence had passed elsewhere. It is shameful to think that we can live together in peace and helpful cooperation only under threat of military defeat. It is frightening to reflect that the erosion of internal dissension can divide and weaken us almost as effectively as enemy conquest.

Russia and Britain, which felt the enemy's blows, today present a united front in the most important matters as they work toward a resumption of normal life. Their goals and the reasons for their unity differ, but the purpose is there.

Meanwhile, we are failing ourselves and the cause of world peace. And we shall continue to fail until all of us enlist in an active campaign against selfishness and disunity in our government, in our economy, in our community, and, most of all, within ourselves.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, June 13

A DAY of doubts, perplexities, confusion and indecision may be at the root of unusual experiences and adventures at hand. It seems there are so many forms of subtlety and behind-the-scenes complications, that the approach may prove difficult and unprofitable unless extraordinary care, prudence and precaution be exercised every step of the alluring way. Lures and intrigues abound, pitfalls and false leads. However, the intuitions, spiritual or emotional undercurrents, are reliable.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of complexities and strange problems to be discreetly, sagaciously and profoundly analysed before safe and sound decisions be arrived at. Subtlety, duplicity, craft and intrigue may be imbued with bewilderment and glamor, with the mind slanting in that weird direction.

However, there is a deep spiritual refuge, with intuitions, peculiar emotional promptings, even inspiration and hunches stimulated finally to the wise and safe way to security and ease. But reflect before taking vital steps.

A child born on this day although having a deep inspirational nature, lured by high ideals, beauty, charm, moved by intuitions, may be subject to grave duplicity, unless duly warned.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Symptoms of Lead Poisoning

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

LEAD is a common and useful metal, so common and so useful that we sometimes forget that it is also a deadly poison.

Accidental poisoning with lead may occur in many ways. Lead salts are contained in insecticides used for spraying fruits and vegetables; drinking water which has passed through lead pipes may be another source of danger; discarded storage batteries which contain lead plates are sometimes used for fuel in the home, a highly dangerous practice.

Protective Regulations

Fortunately, there are public health regulations designed to protect against these things, so that today, most cases of lead poisoning are confined to those who are exposed to lead in the course of their work. Even here proper protective measures will minimize the danger.

One difficulty lies in the fact that there is a great difference in susceptibility to lead. That is some persons may absorb a great deal into the body before any symptoms develop, while in others, even a little may produce signs of poisoning within a short period of time.

It makes a difference, too, whether the lead enters the body through the skin, the mouth or the lungs. It acts most rapidly when inhaled; most slowly when absorbed through the skin.

Early Signs

The early signs of lead poisoning are not distinct. They consist of such things as disturbed sleep, distaste for food at breakfast, constipation, and certain changes in the red blood cells. In some cases a paralysis of certain muscles occurs so that the wrist drops.

Later on, there may be sleeplessness, cramping pains in the abdomen, headache, dizziness, nervousness, pain in the joints, pain over the heart, backache, fatigue and anemia or lessening of the coloring in the blood and convulsions. A blue line along the gums known as a lead line develops in some instances.

Sometimes the symptoms of lead poisoning do not occur until the patient develops a cold, or influenza, or some similar infection. After the lead is ingested, a varying period may pass before symptoms occur. About two weeks is the minimum time.

Gasoline Workers

Workers with gasoline containing lead sometimes develop lead poisoning because the lead is absorbed through the skin. In one case, the symptoms developed within two months after a man started working with this type of gasoline.

On the other hand, in certain workers engaged in the cutting of materials containing lead (by means of a flame or torch), symptoms may develop after three or four hours, and severe poisoning may develop after a half-day's exposure.

Regular Check-Up

People who work with lead should be examined at regular intervals to make sure that poisoning is not occurring. One of the best tests is to examine the red blood cells to see if abnormal changes, such as lessening of the coloring matter in them, have occurred.

Many cases of lead poisoning in children have occurred as the result of using discarded automobile storage batteries for fuel in the home.

Springfield City Manager Orders Clamp on Gambling

SPRINGFIELD, June 12.—City Manager Harold M. Floss said today he had instructed Police Chief Walter L. Sweet to "clamp down" on gambling in Springfield.

"I told the chief that unless gambling was stopped, I would take other steps," Floss said after a 90-minute conference with Chief Sweet. The chief declined to comment.

Springfield newspapers last week emphasized the number of horse race betting places said to be operating in Springfield.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
GENEVA—The League of Nations had great experiment in international unity, has come down to 100,000 worth of empty buildings and a lone, vain glorification of peace.
The white, deserted village, where the initial bid for world peace failed, once was a beautiful farm on the edge of Lake Geneva's shimmering waters.
On this farm the League of Nations was built with peacocks, pigeons, and many other birds. The peacocks gawked from green trees as famous men from many nations met to bargain and palaver. Then return to their own farmlands where other things than peace were at issue.
One by one, these peacocks died and were assassinated by dogs of peace visitors.
Now only one is left. Peace indeed has come back to him. He is the only peacock left in his particular world, and he doesn't seem to regret it.
The symbol of defeat which these empty halls represent means nothing to him, but it does call to others who walk through this forlorn world capital and think of all the graves filled by its failure.
Before the second World war began, thousands of tourists filed through these vast chambers of colorful gardens. They came from every quarter of the globe.
Some 300 visitors daily still walk the empty corridors, but it is as if they trod some old mausoleum. This once busy monument to peace has become to most of them a place of hope and half-hearted idealism.
To the cynical, this group of buildings takes its place with the pyramids, the colosseum, the pyramids and other relics of history.
But although the League of Nations to house international technical commissions.
In the vast modern assembly hall these delegates once sifted world problems, only two things moved among memorials to peace—two war-borne sparrows fighting over a morsel of bread.
The rubberized floors are still slick and shiny new. Little dust is collected in the hundreds of shoes and ornate committee rooms. For $2,500,000 spent yearly to upkeep during the war years it is no difficult problem to keep the League home clean.

Senate to UN

Sen. Warren R. Austin, above, of Vermont, a ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has been appointed by President Truman to be the U. S. representative on the United Nations Security Council. He succeeds Edward R. Stettinius, who resigned. Under constitutional provision, Senator Austin's appointment becomes effective when his term ends Jan. 1.

Court Grants Youth Stay In Second 'Electrocution'

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Supreme court today admitted error and said it will rule on whether Willie Francis, 18-year-old Louisiana Negro, should be sent to the electric chair a second time.
A court official announced to reporters an error was made in the listing of the court's order in the case yesterday. That order said the petition filed on behalf of Francis had been denied.
Actually the court will hear argument in the new term next October on the plea of Francis that he should not be placed in jeopardy of his life a second time for the same offense.
The plea said this would be cruel and unusual punishment.
The Supreme court has issued a stay of execution which will remain in effect until it rules finally in the case.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
GENEVA—The League of Nations, first great experiment in international unity, has come down to $100,000,000 worth of empty buildings situated by a lone, vain gloriole peacock.

This white, deserted village, where the initial bid for world peace failed, once was a beautiful farm in the edge of Lake Geneva's shimmering waters.

On this farm, five dozens of peacocks with gleaming plumage and harsh discordant voices, they walked in unbridled wonder with many farmers built a peace-stoned citadel of peace and cooperation in the pleasant pastures.

peacocks gawked from green lawns as famous men from many lands met to bargain and palaver and then return to their own far countries where other things than world peace were at issue.

One by one, these peacocks died some were assassinated by dogs of nations visitors.

Now only one is left. Peace indeed has come back to him. He is the only peacock left in his particular world, and he doesn't seem to regret it.

The symbol of defeat which these empty halls represent means nothing to him but it does call to others who walk through this forlorn world capital and think of all the graves filled by its failure.

Before the second World War began, thousands of tourists filed through these vast chambers of colorful gardens. They came from every quarter of the globe. Some 300 visitors daily still walk through the empty corridors, but it is as if they trod some old mausoleum. This once busy monument to peace has become to most of them an empty shell of hope and half-faded idealism.

To the cynical, this group of buildings takes its place with the Colosseum, the pyramids and other relics of history. But although the League of Nations to house international technical commissions.

In the vast modern assembly hall where delegates once sifted world problems, only two things moved among memorials to peace — two warlike sparrows fighting over national relations.

The rubberized floors are still black and shiny new. Little dust has collected in the hundreds of paces and ornate committee rooms. For $2,500,000 spent yearly to upkeep during the war years it is no difficult problem to keep the league's home clean.

Under constitutional provision, Senator Austin's appointment becomes effective when his term ends Jan. 1.

Court Grants Youth Stay In Second 'Electrocution'

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Supreme court today admitted error and said it will rule on whether Willie Francis, 18-year-old Louisiana Negro, should be sent to the electric chair a second time.

A court official announced to reporters an error was made in the listing of the court's order in the case yesterday. That order said the petition filed on behalf of Francis had been denied.

Actually the court will hear argument in the new term next October on the plea of Francis that he should not be placed in jeopardy of his life a second time for the same offense.

The plea said this would be cruel and unusual punishment.

The Supreme court has issued a stay of execution which will remain in effect until it rules finally in the case.

Legion Auxiliary Adds To Memorial Library

The American Legion auxiliary has a book shelf in the public library in memory of Salem boys who lost their lives in World War II, and at a meeting Tuesday evening at the home the unit voted to give $25 to buy more books.

Mrs. James Helm, Community Service chairman, reported there are 14 books on the shelf.

Mrs. E. J. Rich, poppy day chairman, reported that the recent poppy sale had netted $436. This money is used for welfare work.

Plans were made to assist the Legionnaires in a card party June 20 in the Memorial building.

Detroit Girl Bride Of Angelo Marino

Miss Vera Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gallo of Detroit, and Angelo J. Marino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marino, S. Ellsworth ave., were the principals in a beautifully appointed wedding Sunday morning, June 2, in the Holy Family church, Detroit.

Rev. Father Benedict, used the single ring ceremony in a high mass. The bride wore a lovely gown created of white satin and net and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

An arch of roses at the entrance to the altar was featured in the decorations.

Mrs. Rose Floria of Flint, Mich., was matron of honor, and Miss Antonette Gallo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Julia Kanan of Detroit; Mrs. Anthony Marino, Salem, and Miss Argentina Ventiquatre of Detroit. William Santarelli of Salem was the best man.

Peter Gallo, brother of the bride, and Anthony Marino of Salem, brother of the groom, and Joseph Salvo of Flint, Mich., cousin of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Gallo, mother of the bride, was dressed in red and black print and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Marino, the groom's mother, was dressed in grey and wore a corsage of pink roses.

500 At Reception

A breakfast was held at the Slovack hall, where 500 guests assembled for the reception.

The bride was employed by the Detroit Jewel Stove Co. before her marriage.

Mr. Marino, a discharged veteran, with 33 months of service, some of which he spent in Europe, attended Salem High school. He is employed by the Mullins Mfg. Corp.

The couple have returned from a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and points in Canada and the eastern states and are residing at 422 S. Ellsworth ave.

The retiring officers are: President, Mrs. Reichert; Vice president, Mrs. M. W. Riegel; secretary, Mrs. Betty Pearce; treasurer, Mrs. Lawrence Russell.

Three past presidents were honored on this occasion, which was the ninth annual installation. Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mrs. Blair Curry and Mrs. Joseph Dornon. They gave brief talks reviewing the highlights of the years they were in office. Each one was presented a gift.

Gives Book Review
A book review, "Patterns On The Wall," by Mrs. Guy E. Byers, honorary member of the club, featured the program. She was presented by Mrs. M. W. Riegel, program chairman.

Enhanced with a motif of yellow and white, the table appointments were unusual. A chain of daisies was used through the center and it was graced by three bouquets of mixed flowers. The exquisite favors were small smiling face gold pendants, in which were tall yellow tapers tied with white bows of malinge and decorated with pansies. Small bouquets of pansies tied with yellow ribbon were attached to the place cards.

Places were arranged for 23 guests. Guests of the club were Mrs. J. A. Scott and Mrs. Frederick Koenreich, who had been speakers during the year, and Miss Pearl Walker.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. A. V. Smith and Mrs. Robert Wentz.

Committees Chosen
Mrs. Dean announced her committees as follows:

English Bride Can Find Food Here She Longed For At Home

"Living conditions in the United States are much better than they are in England," according to Mrs. Miriam Hoobler, English bride of Glen E. Hoobler of S. Union ave., who arrived here last week.

"There is no fruit in England," she said. "One person is allowed one pound of oranges with one rationing book." Britain depends on the United States, New Zealand and Australia for its fruit.

One week one person is allotted one-quarter pound of margarine and two ounces of butter, and the next week the amount of the different fats is reversed. Each person is allowed 20 cents worth of meat a week, which means one hot meal a week, if you live alone. In families you fare better because the food is pooled.

Clothing Also Scarce
Clothing is purchased by coupons; one person is allowed 24 for eight months. It takes 18 coupons to buy a coat and seven for a pair of shoes.

Furniture, blankets, sheets and table linens are hard to get and are sold by a unit system through a board of trade. "You can't buy furniture or household supplies unless the board sees fit to give it to you," she said.

Hoobler met his bride while he was stationed at Bishop's-Storford, Herts, where they were married later.

The couple are making their home with his mother, Mrs. Gertrude B. Hoobler, S. Union ave.

Initiate Candidates

Seven candidates were initiated at a meeting of Gold Star auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday night in the hall. Lunch was served at the social period.

The next meeting is set for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Royden Piper and son, Jeffrey, returned last night from Blairsville, Pa., where they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Piper.

Plan Open House For Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Townsend of R. D. Salem, will observe their 50th anniversary by keeping open house Sunday afternoon and evening.

The couple were married June 18, 1896, by Rev. Casper Stanley. They have spent their married life near Salem.

They have three children: Mrs. E. O. Weingart of R. D. Salem; Frank Townsend, Lima, and W. I. Townsend of R. D. Salem; also seven grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Pythian Sisters Plan Thursday Session

The Past Chiefs association of Friendship temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet at 3 p. m. Thursday in the Memorial building.

At 5:30 a coverdish supper will be served. Friendship temple will hold its meeting at 8.

Fete Church Group

Mr. and Mrs. William Pritchard of E. Seventh st., were hosts to the teachers of the Christian church school Monday night at their home. After a business session refreshments were served.

Merrymates Will Hold Party Thursday

The Merrymates of St. Paul's Catholic church will hold a party at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, June 20, at Stony Crest farm, Ellsworth rd. A wiener roast and an old-fashioned barn dance will be featured.

Miss Evelyn Whitacre of Woodland ave has gone to Huntington Park, Calif., to spend a few weeks with her father, Clarence Whitacre. She made the trip by plane with her father, who was called to Warren by the recent death of his mother, Mrs. Blanche Whitacre.

Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis, who returned recently from Zephyrhills, Fla., where she spent the winter, was in the Alliance hospital for a week. She has returned to her home on the Damascus rd.

Mrs. J. Howard Groner, Salem school teacher, has enrolled in the Dana Institute, Youngstown, for a summer course in music. She is also studying art at Youngstown college.

Faye Cozad Honored With Shower Tuesday

A shower of personal gifts was presented Miss Faye Cozad, bride-elect of Walter J. Miller, at a pre-nuptial party given by Mrs. Phil Cozad and Miss Phyllis Cozad last night at the honoree's home on Park ave.

The gifts were arranged on a table centered with a miniature bride and the packages were attached to streamers coming from the "bride's" bouquet.

The home was beautifully decorated with white and deep rose peonies.

Cootie prizes were awarded Miss June Wolford, Mrs. Paul Trella, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Howard Krauss and Miss Cozad. A contest prize was won by Miss Shirley Crawford.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and lighted with tapers in crystal holders. It was centered with a large cake with the couple's names on. Fifteen guests were served.

Miss Cozad is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cozad of Park ave.

Mr. Miller is the son of Paul Miller of Newgarden st.

Miss Cozad has chosen Saturday, Aug. 17, for her wedding date.

Jack P. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd P. Crawford of E. Eighth st., who enlisted in the Army air corps this week, is at Camp Atterbury, Ind., his parents have been advised. He is a member of this year's graduating class of the Salem High school.

Mrs. Mary R. Schaefer of Pasadena, Calif., has arrived to visit relatives and friends in Salem and vicinity.

Faces Task In Removing Elephant From Building

RICHMOND, Va., June 12—The Independent Order of Basement Boat Builders has a kindred fellow in Walter P. Bronston who has an elephant in his office.

He can't get it out either. Bronston, a chiroprapist, is also an elephant fancier. He has hundreds of elephants—ivory, porcelain, bric-a-brac, metal. But his biggest feat and closest to the real thing is a plaster job, 12 feet long, six feet tall with a 32-inch ear spread.

Now Bronston's office building has been sold and he wishes to vacate.

And it's harder to dismantle a plaster elephant than a basement sail boat.

WOMEN IN THE SERVICE

First Lieut. Frances Kuniewicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kuniewicz of Prospect st., was awarded the Army Commendation ribbon by Colonel Joseph E. Shelton, camp surgeon, in ceremonies Tuesday at Camp Campbell, Ky.

The citation accompanying the award stated that "Lieut. Kuniewicz accomplished her administrative and professional assignments in an outstanding manner, reflecting great credit upon her profession and the military service."

Lieut. Kuniewicz was the only one of 45 nurses stationed on the post to receive the award.

English Bride Can Find Food Here She Longed For At Home

"Living conditions in the United States are much better than they are in England," according to Mrs. Miriam Hoobler, English bride of Glen E. Hoobler of S. Union ave., who arrived here last week.

"There is no fruit in England," she said. "One person is allowed one pound of oranges with one rationing book." Britain depends on the United States, New Zealand and Australia for its fruit.

One week one person is allotted one-quarter pound of margarine and two ounces of butter, and the next week the amount of the different fats is reversed. Each person is allowed 20 cents worth of meat a week, which means one hot meal a week, if you live alone. In families you fare better because the food is pooled.

Clothing Also Scarce
Clothing is purchased by coupons; one person is allowed 24 for eight months. It takes 18 coupons to buy a coat and seven for a pair of shoes.

Furniture, blankets, sheets and table linens are hard to get and are sold by a unit system through a board of trade. "You can't buy furniture or household supplies unless the board sees fit to give it to you," she said.

Hoobler met his bride while he was stationed at Bishop's-Storford, Herts, where they were married last year.

The couple are making their home with his mother, Mrs. Gertrude B. Hoobler, S. Union ave.

Initiate Candidates

Seven candidates were initiated at a meeting of Gold Star auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday night in the hall. Lunch was served at the social period.

The next meeting is set for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Royden Piper and son, Jeffrey, returned last night from Blairsville, Pa., where they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Piper.

Plan Open House For Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Townsend of R. D. 2, Salem, will observe their 50th anniversary by keeping open house Sunday afternoon and evening.

The couple were married June 18, 1896, by Rev. Casper Stanley. They have spent their married life near Salem.

They have three children: Mrs. E. O. Weingart of R. D. Salem; Frank Townsend, Lima, and W. I. Townsend of R. D. Salem; also seven grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Pythian Sisters Plan Thursday Session

The Past Chiefs association of Friendship temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet at 3 p. m. Thursday in the Memorial building.

At 5:30 a coverdish supper will be served. Friendship temple will hold its meeting at 8.

Fete Church Group

Mr. and Mrs. William Pritchard of E. Seventh st., were hosts to the teachers of the Christian church school Monday night at their home. After a business session refreshments were served.

Merrymates Will Hold Party Thursday

The Merrymates of St. Paul's Catholic church will hold a party at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, June 20, at Stony Crest farm, Ellsworth rd.

A wiener roast and an old-fashioned barn dance will be featured.

Miss Evelyn Whitacre of Woodland ave. has gone to Huntington Park, Calif., to spend a few weeks with her father, Clarence Whitacre. She made the trip by plane with her father, who was called to Warren by the recent death of his mother, Mrs. Blanche Whitacre.

Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis, who returned recently from Zephyrhills, Fla., where she spent the winter, was in the Alliance hospital for a week. She has returned to her home on the Damascus rd.

Mrs. J. Howard Groner, Salem school teacher, has enrolled in the Dana Institute, Youngstown, for a summer course in music. She is also studying art at Youngstown college.

Faye Cozad Honored With Shower Tuesday

A shower of personal gifts was presented Miss Faye Cozad, bride-elect of Walter J. Miller, at a pre-nuptial party given by Mrs. Phil Cozad and Miss Phyllis Cozad last night at the honoree's home on Park ave.

The gifts were arranged on a table centered with a miniature bride and the packages were attached to streamers coming from the "bride's" bouquet.

Cootie prizes were awarded Miss June Wolford, Mrs. Paul Trella, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Howard Krauss and Miss Cozad. A contest prize was won by Miss Shirley Crawford.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and lighted with tapers in crystal holders. It was centered with a large cake with the couple's names on. Fifteen guests were served.

Miss Cozad is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cozad of Park ave.

Mr. Miller is the son of Paul Miller of Neward rd.

Miss Cozad has chosen Saturday, Aug. 17, for her wedding date.

Jack P. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd P. Crawford of E. Eighth st., who enlisted in the Army air corps this week, is at Camp Atterbury, Ind., his parents have been advised. He is a member of this year's graduating class of the Salem High school.

Mrs. Mary R. Schaefer of Pasadena, Calif., has arrived to visit relatives and friends in Salem and vicinity.

Faces Task In Removing Elephant From Building

RICHMOND, Va., June 12—The Independent Order of Basement Boat Builders has a kindred fellow in Walter P. Bronston who has an elephant in his office.

He can't get it out either. Bronston, a chiropractor, is also an elephant fancier. He has hundreds of elephants—ivory, porcelain, bric-a-brac, metal. But his biggest feat and closest to the real thing is a plaster job, 12 feet long, six feet tall with a 32-inch ear spread.

Now Bronston's office building has been sold and he wishes to vacate.

And it's harder to dismantle a plaster elephant than a basement sail boat.

WOMEN IN THE SERVICE

First Lieut. Frances Kuniewicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kuniewicz of Prospect st., was awarded the Army Commendation ribbon by Colonel Joseph R. Shelton, camp surgeon, in ceremonies Tuesday at Camp Campbell, Ky.

The citation accompanying the award stated that "Lieut. Kuniewicz accomplished her administrative and professional assignments in an outstanding manner, reflecting great credit upon her profession and the military service."

Lieut. Kuniewicz was the only one of 45 nurses stationed on the post to receive the award.

Woman Confesses Killing Spouse, Pleads Innocent

PORTSMOUTH, June 12—Mrs. Rena Dearfield, 48-year-old Portsmouth woman, pleaded innocent in municipal court to a manslaughter charge just six hours after a shotgun blast had made her a widow.

Her husband, Oscar, 50, died of abdominal wounds, which Sheriff Earl Brandel said Mrs. Dearfield admitted inflicting when the man entered her home yesterday in violation of a court order.

Mrs. Dearfield obtained the order several months ago when she filed for divorce from the father of her seven children.

Mrs. Dearfield was released under $500 bond.

Britain Will Mould Own Destiny—Attlee

BOURNEMOUTH, England, June 12.—Prime Minister Attlee proclaimed today Britain's freedom to work out her own destiny and defined British policy as a search for co-operation and not an "attempt to impose a dull uniformity on the world."

"We ask for others the freedom we claim for ourselves," he told the Labour party's annual conference. "We proclaim this freedom. We seek to put it into effect; witness India."

If India "will stay with us in the British commonwealth," he added, "we shall welcome them. If they desire to go outside, we shall stretch out the hand of friendship to them."

Attlee reported to his party his stewardship of the government since Labour took control last July. "I reaffirm my faith in Democracy—socialism—social democracy—which can set us free from the tyranny of economic power and preserve us, too, from the dangers of the absolute power of the state," he declared.

It will be impossible, he said, because of worldwide shortages, to relax completely government supervision. Of the government's program for state ownership of basic industries, the prime minister reported: "We are resolved to carry out the distinctive side of socialist policy—the policy of nationalization."

He said the socialist goals are designed to help in promoting full employment, economic prosperity and justice for all."

COLUMBIANA

The Columbiana Women's Republican club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Walter Miller, Firestone, Ave.

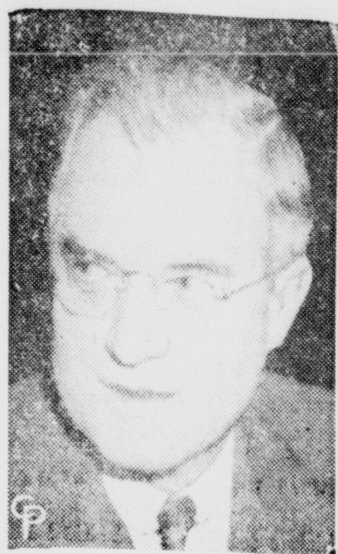

Entertainment included several addresses by Dale Morris and readings by Joan Haggerty. Richard Cook of Springfield spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cook.

Pup Forces Express Into Dog Trot

CHICAGO, June 12.—A little black dog set the pace—a dog trot—for a southbound express train over two miles of tracks in Chicago's subway yesterday.

Motorman Daniel Cate, 65, saw the dog on the underground tracks as he started to drive an Englewood express train away from the Clark and Division streets subway station.

Cate started his cars slowly toward the loop, with the pup leading the way at about five miles an hour. Some passengers went to the motorman to complain but discovered the reason for the slow trip.

The dog, staying away from the third rail, paid no heed to the shouts from crowds lining platforms at Loop stations. Near the end of the subway at Roosevelt road, Policeman Edward Kavale jumped from the platform and picked up the pup.

Cate reached his Englewood terminal—14 minutes late. The venturesome puppy was turned over to the Illinois Humane society.

FLOUR SHORTAGE FOR YEAR HINTED

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Bread and flour shortages for at least another year was the forecast handed American housewives today despite the start on harvesting another of the nation's bumper wheat crops.

The Agriculture department reported considerable improvement in bread and flour supplies are expected in another month, but hardly to the extent needed to meet all domestic and famine relief demands before the 1947 harvest.

The bread scarcity in a number of major cities verged on the acute stage, and an Associated Press spot survey disclosed the same held true for meat, soap, butter and cooking fats ranked next on the list of increasingly hard-to-get items.

The outlook in the cities covered seemed to be that these shortages would grow worse before the situation improved. Harvesting of the new wheat crop promised to ease the bread-flour picture, but complex uncertainties made the prospects dubious for any big improvement in the supply of meats, butter, or fats.

Mr. and Mrs. Verner Lucas of Pittsburgh spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson.

Richard Cook of Springfield spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cook.

Pup Forces Express Into Dog Trot

CHICAGO, June 12.—A little black dog set the pace—a dog trot—for a southbound express train over two miles of tracks in Chicago's subway yesterday.

Motorman Daniel Cate, 65, saw the dog on the underground tracks as he started to drive an Englewood express train away from the Clark and Division streets subway station.

Gate started his cars slowly toward the loop, with the pup leading the way at about five miles an hour. Some passengers went to the motorman to complain but discovered the reason for the slow trip.

The dog, staying away from the third rail, paid no heed to the shouts from crowds lining platforms at Loop stations. Near the end of the subway at Roosevelt road, Policeman Edward Kavale jumped from the platform and picked up the puppy.

Cate reached his Englewood terminal—14 minutes late. The venturesome puppy was turned over to the Illinois Humane society.

FLOUR SHORTAGE FOR YEAR HINTED

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Bread and flour shortages for at least another year was the forecast handed American housewives today despite the nation's bumper wheat crops.

The Agriculture department reported considerable improvement in bread and flour supplies are expected in another month, but hardly to the extent needed to meet all domestic and famine relief demands before the 1947 harvest.

The bread scarcity in a number of major cities verged on the acute stage, and an Associated Press spot survey disclosed the same held true for meat, soap, butter and cooking fats ranked next on the list of increasingly hard-to-get items.

The outlook in the cities covered seemed to be that these shortages

would grow worse before the situation improved. Harvesting of the new wheat crop promised to ease the bread-flour picture, but complex uncertainties made the prospects dubious for any big improvement in the supply of meats, butter, or fats.

OPA Hits Meat Packers In 470 Court Actions

WASHINGTON, June 12.—OPA, acknowledging diversion of meat to black markets, announced today it had filed more than 470 court actions since May 1 against alleged violators of new slaughter controls.

Most of these actions, the agency said, have been injunction suits designed to curb the flow "of scarce meat supplies to black markets." The court cases dealt only with regulations which forbid packers to slaughter more than a specified percentage of the number of meat animals they butchered during 1944. These actions were a part of 1,132 legal proceedings on meat ceilings during May, the agency added.

NEED PAR-BUSTING IN NATIONAL OPEN!

BY HAROLD HARRISON
CLEVELAND, June 12.—The nation's par-busters think it will take par-busting to win the 46th national open golf championship—but not by much.

Consensus among the players was that a 285 would be the winner—and that would be only three under par.

For their final practice round today the 133 professional and 39 amateur qualifiers for golf-dom's No. 1 classic had a soaking wet course over which to whet their blades, due to a heavy overnight downpour.

A driving contest, with a $100 first prize, was among today's added features, but most of the title aspirants were expected to concentrate on a last-minute polishing of their game instead of the "muscle" event.

Only a small portion of the field participated yesterday in a best-ball attraction, which went to Bruce Coltart of Absecon, N. J., and Amateur Howard Everitt of Philadelphia on a combined effort of 31-33—

64, eight under par for the 6,926-yard layout.

Johnny Bulla, airline pilot from Chicago, and Dick Burton, English champion, finished second with 87—a score which was manufactured by Bulla with 33-44.

Third in the best-ball fracas were Sneed, the Virginia better, and George Schneider of Oden, Utah, who tacked together 55-33—68. Sam Parks, the 1935 champ from Pittsburgh, teamed with Horton Smith for 70, but the rest of the field skidded over par.

GRADYS, GOODRICH SHARE "B" LEAD

Gradys slipped into a first-place deadlock with Goodrich by virtue of an 11-6 conquest of the Middies and the Gems brought their season record to 1-1 with a 9-0 win over the Lions in Class B frays last night on the field adjoining Reilly stadium.

Beck paced Gradys to its second straight win as he collected three hits and scored five times while Dick Theiss got two blows for the losers.

Enlio Clotti gave up three hits as the Gems blanked the Lions, 9-0. Ray Snyder and Junior Parlow shared clubbing honors for the victors, each boasting two hits in three appearances at the plate.

It was the second loss of the campaign for the Lions.

John McQuiston Hurls No-Hitter As Jaycees Score Win Over Sip-N-Bite

DOUGH FLOWING FASTER NOW THAN IN DEMPSEY'S DAY

So Says Old Manassa Mauler In Interview On Sport Trends

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, June 12.—The day Jack Dempsey fought Georges Carpentier back in 1921, he stood on a ramp in Boyle's thirty acres with Tex Rickard and Tex waved his cane out toward the crowd of 80,000 and said, "Jack, you never seed nuthin like it."

Well, the Old Manassa Mauler, who made money at the rate of $40,000 or more a minute back there in the Golden Twenties, figures Tex should be around today and he'd really get to see something, because the Fancy Forties are on the way to fabulous financial figures in sports, especially boxing—unless boxing spoils its own stew.

"Promoters of all sports, and especially boxing, are charging more money and drawing more money and customers because people are more sports minded and money means nothing," he explained.

Champions Old
"But there's a lot wrong with the fight game. It has busted wide open and turned into a big scamble, mostly because all the champions have become old. The fight game is bigger and there's more money in it. If the boom is handled right, things could keep going good for ever, although this present spending spree probably will taper off in three years. But certain things have to be done to keep it going good."

Among these "certain things," Jack suggests:

1—Develop fighters, because there are too few fighters today—not "enough to go around."

2—Keep old-timers among the managers, who can develop fighters in the business by letting them have a few boxers, because they're being driven out now. "The minute a good fighter comes up," he insists, "along comes Mike Jacobs and grabs him."

3—Get politics out of boxing and boxing commissions, particularly in New York.

4—Cut down big admission prices. The Old Mauler will be 51 come next month, but he's still the same big, dark-jawed, restless fellow he always was, and as he talks to you he keeps bouncing around the room, lighting a cigar, drinking a glass of fizz water, picking up an article here, another there, putting out the cigar and lighting a cigar, but always on the move. And he's still partial to the hot-foot as a means of entertainment.

Jaycee Ace Fans 15 Batters, Pitches Perfect Ball After First; Saxons Defeat China

The sixth no-hitter of the young softball season was registered last night in one of the four games at Centennial park when John McQuiston of the Jaycees whitewashed the Sip N Bite club, 5-0, and allowed only two batters to reach first base.

Several minor changes in the standings occurred as a result of other games. The luckless Eagles finally hit their stride to take the V. F. W. team into camp, 14-1; Washingtonville boosted its prestige with a 6-1 wallop of Firestone and the Saxons thumped the Salem China, 10-3.

McQuiston turned in one of the season's outstanding mound performances against the Sip N Bite. Temporarily wild in the first inning when he passed three men, the Jaycee ace settled down to pitch perfect ball the rest of the route.

He registered 15 strikeouts, seven of them consecutively in the first three stanzas, and walked only three.

Meanwhile his mates found Bob Chappell's offerings to their liking and clubbed him for eight safeties.

Two runs in the second inning iced the game for the Jaycees, giving them their third win against three losses.

Brunner had a round tripper for the winners.

Eagles mound star Henry Dermotta coasted through a four-hitter as his teammates found their batting eye to thump V.F.W. pitching for 14 runs and as many hits.

May, with a perfect night at the plate, showed the way while Kopf connected for a homer in the third when the Lodgements tallied seven runs.

Saxons Blast China, 10-3
A fairly tight contest between the China and the Saxons was blasted wide open in the top half of the seventh when the Saxons played five runs to clinch a 10-3 verdict.

Pauline allowed the Pottery-men three runs in the first, then shut them out the rest of the way while his team pecked at the slants of Orrie Wright for two runs in the first, single tallies in the second, third and fourth and the five-run blast in the final frame.

Walt Miller, Moore and Mike Linder, with two blows each, sparked the winners while Dale Ritchie got three-for-three for the China.

Washingtonville chalked up its fourth win of the year behind the four-hit twirling of "Blinky" Herron, downing Firestone by a 6-1 margin.

The win placed the Bingville outfit in a fourth-place tie with the Salem China in the National circuit while the defeat dropped Firestone into the No. 6 position.

Washingtonville clinched the game with two runs in the third while Firestone got its lone tally in the same inning.

Bell and Wink Miller paced their respective teams with two hits apiece.

64, eight under par for the 6,926-yard layout.

Johnny Bulla, airline pilot from Chicago, and Dick Burton, English champion, finished second with 67—a score which was manufactured by Bulla with 33-44.

Third in the best-ball fracas were Sneed, the Virginia better, and George Schneider of Ogden, Utah, who tacked together 35-33—68. Sam Parks, the 1935 champion from Pittsburgh, teamed with Horton Smith for 70, but the rest of the field skidded over par.

Up and Over

War Battle, left, and Chesapeake are neck and neck as they leap hurdle in Steeplechase event at Belmont Park. But it was different at finish. Burma Road came from behind to win, Floating Isle was second, War Battle third.

SAM OTIS, SPORTS EDITOR, SUCCUMBS

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Samuel D. Otis, 55, sports editor of The Cleveland Plain Dealer for the last 21 years, died early today of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A native of Providence, R. I., Otis attended Hope High school there, joined the Plain Dealer in 1920 and was named sports editor in 1925. He suffered a stroke Sunday night and was hospitalized there.

Otis had suffered several heart attacks in the last 10 years.

Otis was named sports editor of The Plain Dealer succeeding Henry P. Edwards who became director of publicity of professional baseball's American league.

Art Haessley Victor In Golf Club Tourney

Art Haessley, with a net 31, handicap of 16, won the Sunday odd and even golf tournament at the Salem golf club, Pro Andy Mocsary announced today.

Second were Karl G. Ramsden, 48-14-34, and Sam Spack, 43-9-34. Vincent Judge, 44-8-36, Dr. R. P. Holzbach, 44-8-36, R. E. Yeager, 52-16-36 and John Mulford, 59-23-36, were tied for third.

Mocsary reported that the June rounds in the handicap tournament had been played off.

GRADYS, GOODRICH SHARE "B" LEAD

Grady slipped into a first-place deadlock with Goodrich by virtue of an 11-6 conquest of the Middles and the Gems brought their season record to 1-1 with a 9-0 win over the Lions in Class B frays last night on the field adjoining Reilly stadium.

Beck paced Grady's to its second straight win as he collected three hits and scored five times while Dick Theiss got two blows for the losers.

Ennio Clotti gave up three hits as the Gems blanked the Lions, 9-0. Ray Snyder and Junior Parlow shared clubbing honors for the victors, each boasting two hits in three appearances at the plate.

It was the second loss of the campaign for the Lions.

John McQuiston Hurls No-Hitter As Jaycees Score Win Over Sip-N-Bite

DOUGH FLOWING FASTER NOW THAN IN DEMPSEY'S DAY

So Says Old Manassa Mauler In Interview On Sport Trends

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, June 12.—The day Jack Dempsey fought Georges Carpentier back in 1921, he stood on a ramp in Boyle's thirty acres with "Tex" Rickard and Tex waved his cane toward the crowd of 80,000 and said, "Jack, you never seed nuthin like it."

Well, the Old Manassa Mauler, who made money at the rate of $40,000 or more a minute back there in the Golden Twenties, figures Tex should be around today and he'd really get to see something, because the Fancy Forties are on the way to fabulous financial figures in sports, especially boxing—unless boxing spots its own stew.

"Promoters of all sports, and especially boxing, are charging more money and drawing more money and customers because people are more sports minded and money means nothing," he explained.

Champions Old

"But there's a lot wrong with the fight game. It has busted wide open and turned into a big scamble, mostly because all the champions have become old. The fight game is bigger and there's more money in it. If the boom is handled right, things could keep going good for ever, although this present spending spree probably will taper off in three years. But certain things have to be done to keep it going good."

Among these "certain things," Jack suggests:

1—Develop fighters, because there are too few fighters today—not "enough to go around."

2—Keep old-timers among the managers, who can develop fighters in the business by letting them have a few boxers, because they're being driven out now. "The minute a good fighter comes up," he insists, "along comes Mike Jacobs and grabs him."

3—Get politics out of boxing and boxing commissions, particularly in New York.

4—Cut down big admission prices. The Old Mauler will be 51 come next month, but he's still the same big, dark-jowled, restless fellow he always was, and as he talks to you he keeps bouncing around the room, lighting a cigarette, drinking a glass of fizz water, pecking up an article here, another there, putting out a cigarette and lighting a cigar, but always on the move. And he's still partial to the hot-foot as a means of entertainment.

Jaycee Ace Fans 15 Batters, Pitches Perfect Ball After First; Saxons Defeat China

The sixth no-hitter of the young softball season was registered last night in one of the four games at Centennial park when John McQuiston of the Jaycees whitewashed the Sip N Bite club, 5-0, and allowed only two batters to reach first base.

Several minor changes in the standings occurred as a result of other games. The luckless Eagles finally hit their stride to take the V. F. W. team into camp, 14-1. Washingtonville boosted its prestige with a 6-1 wallop of Firestone and the Saxons thumped the Salem China, 10-3.

McQuiston turned in one of the season's outstanding mound performances against the Sip N Bite. Temporarily wild in the first inning when he passed three men, the Jaycee ace settled down to pitch perfect ball the rest of the route.

He registered 15 strikeouts, seven of them consecutively in the first three stanzas, and walked only three.

Meanwhile his mates found Bob Chappell's offerings to their liking and clubbed him for eight safeties. Two runs in the second inning led the game for the Jaycees, giving them their third win against three losses.

Brunner had a round tripper for the winners.

Eagles mound star Henry Dermotta coasted through a four-hitter as his teammates found their batting eyes to thump V. F. W. pitching for 14 runs and as many hits.

May, with a perfect night at the plate, showed the way while Kopf connected for a homer in the third when the Lodgemen tallied seven runs.

Saxons Blast China, 10-3

A fairly tight contest between the China and the Saxons was blasted wide open in the top half of the seventh when the Saxons plated five runs to clinch a 10-3 verdict.

Marly Dayline allowed the Pottery men three runs in the first, then shut them out the rest of the way while his team pecked at the slants of Orrie Wright for two runs in the first, single tallies in the second, third and fourth and the five-run blast in the final frame.

Walt Miller, Moore and Mike Linder, with two blows each, sparked the winners while Dale Ritchie got three-for-three for the China.

Washingtonville chalked up its fourth win of the year behind the four-hit twirling of "Blinky" Herron, downing Firestone by a 6-1 margin.

The win placed the Bingville outfit in a fourth-place tie with the Salem China in the National circuit while the defeat dropped Firestone into the No. 6 position.

Washingtonville clinched the game with two runs in the third while Firestone got its lone tally in the same inning.

Bell and "Wink" Miller paced their respective teams with two hits apiece.

BREAD ADVANCED ONE CENT TODAY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 12.—The price of that elusive loaf of bread advanced a penny today with OPA approval.

The increase is effective immediately. Along with a price boost of one cent a dozen for bread rolls, the higher prices apply to all kinds of bread except rye, which went up two cents a loaf April 30. Prices are being raised, OPA said, because bakers' production costs have climbed as a result of a 25 per cent cut in the amount of flour they may use. The reduction was ordered to help meet famine relief requirements.

May Help Production
The price increase, the agency continued, "is designed to assure consumers of an adequate supply of bread and bread-type rolls as consistent with the president's famine emergency program." An OPA official estimated actually the cost of bread now is about two cents more a loaf than it was prior to June 1, when the Agriculture department ordered the weight of loaves cut by 10 per cent without a corresponding price reduction.

The official said that action, in effect, had raised the price of most bread a cent a loaf.

On bread producers are permitted to put today's one-cent increase into effect by raising the price, reducing the weight further, or by a combination of both. On rolls, only a price increase is authorized.

Extended from the one-cent increase are bakers who have increased prices since last March 15.

Massillon Vet Sentenced On Manslaughter Charge

CANTON, June 12.—The trial of Ernest Brown, 36, of Massillon, on a first degree murder charge ended suddenly today when the defendant pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

Common Pleas Judge A. C. L. Barthelme sentenced Brown to one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary. Brown was accused of fatally shooting Earl G. Anderson in the restaurant of a Massillon club last Feb. 9 after an argument. The state charged that Brown, an ex-service man, was angered by reports that Anderson had been associating with his (Brown's) wife while he was in the armed forces.

It has been estimated that the odds against a person in the temperate zone being struck by lightning are 1,200,000 to 1.

The United States harvests about 50,000 tons of honey annually.

• THE THEATER

A story of mystery, murder and intrigue, "The Three Strangers," Warner's newest melodrama, starring Geraldine Fitzgerald, Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre, will show today only at the State theater.

The tightly woven plot of "The Three Strangers" hangs upon a sweepstakes ticket that cannot be cashed because it has become a clue in a murder involving its three holders.

An intimate human comedy, co-starring Myrna Loy and Don Ameche, is Universal's "So Goes My Love," showing Thursday through Saturday at the State. It concerns the life and love of Hiram Maxim, who, among other things, invented gun silencers and machine guns.

A double bill, "Devil Bat's Daughter," with Rosemary LaPlante and John James, and a Michael Shayne mystery, "Murder Is My Business," starring Hugh Beaumont and Cheryl Walker, will play tonight at the Grand.

"Alias Billy the Kid," a western thriller with Sunset Carson, Peggy Stewart and Tom London, and "Strange Impersonation," a psychological drama starring Brenda Marshall and William Gargan, will be featured together at the Grand Friday and Saturday.

Fined; Has License Suspended

Lester Davis, 21, of 2192 E. State st., was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license suspended for one year by Municipal Judge Frank Grosshans of East Liverpool on a charge of reckless operation filed by Salem state highway patrolmen. Davis was arrested following a two-car accident on the Depot road last Tuesday. State highway patrolmen placed the blame on Davis, who said he had lost control of car, swerved into a ditch and then collided with a car driven by Frank Steer, 44, of R. D. 1, Salem. Both received minor injuries.

Charles Geiger Honored

Charles H. Geiger, of Washington, was awarded an "oldtimers" pin at the recent golden jubilee congress of the American Foundrymen's association in recognition of his more than half-century of service to the castings industry. Chicago headquarters of the world-wide technical society announced.

Geiger, an employee of the Deming Co., entered the foundry industry in 1888 as an apprentice core-maker.

Plan Masonic Program

A home talent program, planned to interest all ages, will be presented at the Masonic Family Night party Friday.

Atwater Civil War Vet Again Heads Ohio Group

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Civil War Veteran John H. Grate today started his second consecutive term as commander of the Ohio department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The 101-year-old Atwater, O. veteran was elected yesterday by the only two votes cast and his reelection broke a 50-year-old precedent.

Miss Lida S. Lucas, state secretary, said it was "the first time in more than 50 years that a man has been chosen for a second consecutive term."

The two veterans who cast ballots were: Frederick Pfeister, 100, of Cincinnati, and John R. Bennett, 101, of Waynesville.

Fined; Has License Suspended
Lester Davis, 21, of 2192 E. State st., was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license suspended for one year by Municipal Judge Frank Groshans of East Liverpool on a charge of reckless operation filed by Salem state highway patrolmen.

Davis was arrested following a two-car accident on the Depot road last Tuesday. State highway patrolmen placed the blame on Davis, who said he had lost control of car, swerved into a ditch and then collided with a car driven by Frank Steer, 44, of R. D. 1, Salem. Both received minor injuries.

Charles Geiger Honored
Charles H. Geiger, of Washingtonville, was awarded an "oldtimers" pin at the recent golden jubilee congress of the American Foundrymen's association in recognition of his more than half-century of service to the castings industry. Chicago headquarters of the world-wide technical society announced.

Geiger, an employee of the Deming Co., entered the foundry industry in 1888 as an apprentice core-maker.

Plan Masonic Program
A home talent program, planned to interest all ages, will be presented at the Masonic Family Night party Friday.

The affair is for Masons and their families and Eastern Stars and their families. M. A. Kelly and Mrs. W. G. Aldom, chairman of the June and July committees of the Masonic Activities committee, are in charge.

Elks Party Thursday
Salem lodge of Elks will observe Flag day with a "welcome home" party for members who served in the war at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the lodge home.

The dinner will be followed by the lodge meeting. All but two members have returned from the armed forces.

Discuss Youth Plans
Plans were made toward naming a director at a meeting of the board of control, Youth for Christ movement, last night in the Memorial building.

A brief discussion of plans for the next rally was held.

Both matters will be discussed further at a meeting next week.

Looked Like Fire
Firemen were called to the Sinclair filling station, E. State st. and Woodland ave., at 10:20 p. m. yesterday when a neighbor thought the place had caught fire. The blaze turned out to be the reflection of flames in a stove, shining through a rear window.

Plan Country Club Events
Plans for activities for the summer season at the Salem Country club were discussed briefly at a meeting of the stockholders Monday evening in the club house. A special program for July 4 is planned.

Accountants To Meet
A delegation from the Youngstown chapter of costs accountants, including members from Salem, will attend the annual conference of the National Association of Costs Accountants June 17-19 in New York City.

Masksmen Meet Warren
The Salem Revolver and Pistol club's practice session scheduled for Monday has been cancelled since the club will travel to Warren to meet the Warren club in an inter-city pistol league match.

Tells of Gen. Custer
Using as his subject, "It Happened 70 Years Ago," W. H. Matthews related the story of Custer's Last Stand to Rotarians yesterday noon in the Memorial building.

Plan Lions' Party
Members of the Lions club made plans for their installation dinner party Tuesday, June 12, when the club met last night at the Lape hotel. The affair will be held at Hill Crest inn on the Albany road.

Romanians Plan Party
The Romanian St. John's orthodox church, S. Lundy ave., will hold a tea party at 7 p. m. Thursday in the church.

Plan Thursday Session
The Salem Girl Scout council will hold a meeting at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in the Memorial building.

Junior Saxons To Meet
The Junior Saxons will install officers at 8 tonight in Saxon hall, Railroad st.

Atwater Civil War Vet Again Heads Ohio Group

COLUMBUS, June 12.—Civil War Veteran John H. Grate today started his second consecutive term as commander of the Ohio department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The 101-year-old Atwater, O. veteran was elected yesterday by the only two votes cast and his reelection broke a 50-year-old precedent.

Miss Lida S. Lucas, state secretary, said it was "the first time in more than 50 years that a man has been chosen for a second consecutive term."

The two veterans who cast ballots were: Frederick Pfeister, 100, of Cincinnati, and John R. Bennett, 101, of Waynesville.

OBITUARY

ROBINSON INFANT
LISEBON, June 12.—Services for Mary Marie, nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Robinson, who died at the home on the Salem road Tuesday following a brief illness of pneumonia, were held at the Ellis Funeral home this afternoon.

Rev. William Orr, pastor of Emmanuel chapel, was in charge. Burial was in the Lisbon cemetery.

The child was born Aug. 28, 1945, at Memphis, Tenn. Surviving are the parents, and the maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Horner of Lisbon.
